Postlude

The Summons

Will you come and follow me if I but call your name?

Will you go where you don't know and never be the same?

Will you let my love be shown?

Will you let my name be known,

will you let my life be grown in you and you in me?

Will you leave yourself behind if I but call your name?

Will you care for cruel and kind and never be the same?

Will you risk the hostile stare

should your life attract or scare?

Will you let me answer prayer in you and you in me?

Will you let the blinded see if I but call your name?

Will you set the prisoners free and never be the same?

Will you kiss the leper clean

and do such as this unseen,

and admit to what I mean in you and you in me?

Will you love the “you” you hide if I but call your name?

Will you quell the fear inside and never be the same?

Will you use the faith you've found to reshape the world around,

through my sight and touch and sound in you and you in me?

Adding the final verse at the conclusion of the Service

Lord your summons echoes true when you but call my name.

Let me turn and follow you and never be the same.

In Your company I'll go where Your love and footsteps show.

Thus I'll move and live and grow in you and you in me.

Litany for Lent 121

CHOIR—Solus ad victimam K. Leighton
Alone to sacrifice thou goest Lord,
Giving thyself to Death whom thou has slain,
For us thy wretched folk is any word?
Who know that for our sins this is thy pain?
For they are our, O Lord,
Our deeds, our deeds,
Why must thou suffer torture for our sin?
Let our hearts suffer in thy Passion, Lord.
That very suffering may thy mercy win.
This is the night of tears,
The three day's space,
Sorrow abiding of the eventide,
Until the daybreak with the risen Christ,
And hearts that sorrowed shall be satisfied.
So may our hearts share in thine anguish, Lord,

That they may sharers of thy glory be;
Heavy with weeping may the three days pass,
To win the laughter of thine Easter Day.

Common Praise—185—SING, MY TONGUE,
THE GLORIOUS BATTLE

4TH REFLECTION—Behold your Mother... Behold your Son.
Will you risk the hostile stare should your life attract or scare?

Responsorial Reading for Lent 106

CHOIR—Silent Tears C. Courtney
She stood and watched her son defiled.
She was silent, not a word.
Only tears would speak for her.
Though her heart was surely broken,
Silent tears are all that's spoken.
She recalls her tears of joy:
Bethlehem, her precious boy.
Love was born to bring us life,
Now silent tears behold his strife.
One tear flows and then another,
One from the son—and then the mother,
They drop together to the ground,
Into the dust without a sound.
She stood and heard the angry crowd.
No words of hate, revenge or gall,
Her silent tears would say it all.
She was silent—not a word.
Her aching heart could not be heard.
Only tears—silent tears.

Common Praise—198—O SACRED HEAD,SURROUNDED

5TH REFLECTION—Why have you forsaken me?
Will you let the blinded see if I but call your name?

Will you set the prisoners free and never be the same?

Silence
Psalm 117 (responsive at the half verse) 866
Responsorial Reading—The Cross 107

CHOIR—He suffered and died J. Althouse
The soldiers found him in dark Gethsemane
Before a mob he was tried.
They took our Jesus and nailed him to a tree.
He suffered and died.
A crown of thorns they would place upon his head,
And then our Lord was crucified.
Upon the cross Jesus hung until he bled.
He suffered and died.
“My God, My God why have you forsaken me?”
He raised his head and he cried.
And with those words, Jesus made his final plea.
He suffered and died.

184 – MY SONG IS LOVE UNKNOWN

Canticle—The Lord's Servant 77

CHOIR—O Saviour of the world J. Goss
O Saviour of the world,
Who by thy cross and precious blood
Hast redeemed us, save us, and help us.
O Saviour of the world,
O help us, I Saviour of the world.
O Saviour, why by thy cross and precious blood
Hast redeemed us,
Save us, and help us.
